To Whom it May Concern:

Tom Muzila has been employed by me on specific feature films in numerous capacities, such as stunt coordinator, fight and sword choreographer, military technical advisor, weapons expert, trainer and actor. He has practiced and taught martial arts for thirty years. His martial arts and particularly his sword work, demonstrations and choreography are extraordinary. I have produced films in several countries and have never seen anyone execute sword skills like Tom's.

I know he has been training Billy Zane for a couple years in various areas such as fitness, agility drills, martial arts and sword play. As you are aware, this connection between them is essential for safety and a dynamic fight when coordinating a magnetic fight on screen.

I totally recommend and endorse Tom Muzila to participate, choreograph and exhibit sword work in any major feature film. For further information, please contact me.

Sincerely,

John Flock
